

A. Espersen A/S Modern Slavery Statement; Fiscal year 2023

Disclosure obligations under the UK Modern Slavery Act

Modern Slavery encompasses various forms of labour exploitation, this includes forced labour, debt bondage, servitude, and human trafficking.¹ Overall, if a worker carries out work which was without consent and there is a threat of penalty if chosen to leave, this is modern slavery.² At Espersen, modern slavery and all its forms are not tolerated. In Espersen’s Code of Conduct we outline our commitment to conducting business in an ethical matter and our commitment to human rights. Our commitment is not only within our own operations but we have the same standards for our suppliers, and other business partners.

Organization Structure:

A. Espersen A/S is owned by a family foundation, J.P.A Foundation, under the holding company Insepa. The foundation ensures viable and sustainable business alongside contributing donations and support to worthy humanitarian, environmental and scientific research programs. Espersen Group is a leading processor of frozen fillets, specials cuts, and breaded and deluxe puff pastry fish products. Production facilities are located in Denmark, Lithuania, Poland, Vietnam, and the United Kingdom. In addition, administrative and sales offices are located in Denmark, Sweden, France, Germany, and the United Kingdom.

Due to the nature of the fisheries and food value chain, Espersen’s supply chain is multi-tiered and global. Espersen relies on various raw material sources, which is predominantly white fish species, such as cod, pollock, haddock, yellowfin sole, flounder, and plaice. Seafood raw material is sourced from fishing vessels (factory and non-factory vessels), fish traders, fish farms, and other processors. The majority of our species are wild caught and from northern waters (i.e. FAO 27, 21, 67, 61). In addition to fish, Espersen also procures other raw material for ingredients (i.e. flour, milk, palm oil, etc.) and packaging.

Our Policies & Procedures:

With a complex multi-tiered supply chain, we understand the inherent risk and challenges regarding social compliance within the supply chain, in particular identifying modern slavery. To minimize these risks, Espersen has various policies and procedures which address these issues.

- Code of Conduct:
Our code of conduct, lays out our commitment to conducting business in an ethical manner and our respect for human rights. Our code of conduct can be found on our website.
- Whistleblowing System:
Espersen has a public whistleblowing system that employees and other stakeholders can reach through our intranet and website. The service aims to identify any concerns or illegal activities in the workplace which is contrary to Espersen's values. The platform is available in eight languages, priority to all languages where Espersen operates business. Anyone who wishes to use the service can remain

• Due Diligence Procedures:

For Espersen’s own operations, 100% of our production facilities are audited against the ETI Base Code using the SMETA methodology or audited to customer specific higher standards. Depending on the production facility, this is preformed on a yearly or two year basis. In 2023, our Vietnamese site, UK site and two Polish facilities preformed SMETA re-audits.

For our suppliers, Espersen has a supplier approval process for all potential suppliers, including vessels. All potential suppliers prior to first delivery must complete a questionnaire for the specific production sites that will supply Espersen. The questionnaire relates to product type, product quality, social compliance and environmental factors. In addition, we ask potential suppliers whether they are third party certified in all, or some, of the areas mentioned above. Espersen scores the questionnaire and based on the questionnaire score, country location, and third party certifications or audits, they are either (1) approved, (2) cannot be approved, or (3) we need additional verification from the supplier. We require our suppliers based in high-risk countries to conduct third party social audits at site (using SSCI Social and Scheme Management Criteria). We also have an internal process for conducting second party audits of our suppliers processing sites. We conduct re-assessment of approved suppliers at least every three years. For more details on the approval process please reference our most recent annual sustainability report: Espersen - Sustainability reports

	2021	2022	2023	Comments
Number of conducted second-party supplier Audits	5	10	14	In 2023, no severe human right violations were identified in our supply chain (forced labour, human trafficking, or child labour)

Moving forward:

Espersen continuously updates its sustainability strategy and program, and we will continue to review all policies and procedures regarding social compliance. This includes

- Continuing second party audits of our suppliers processing sites
- Engaging with ongoing conversations around social standards for fishing vessels
- Evaluating high-risk countries
- In 2024, we will re-evaluate policies around agency and migrant workers.
